

Health & Safety Statement

Purpose

We, at Inline Removals, are aware of our responsibilities towards our staff, our customers, third parties and those who may be affected by the provision of our services, so that they are not placed into any situation that carries unnecessary risk. Our activities, by definition, carry certain elements of risk that are unavoidable. We mitigate as much of that risk as possible through training, discussion with our clients, and taking all reasonable measures to, as far as possible, eliminate risks. The additional benefit of taking such action is that your home and possessions are treated with the utmost respect.

Scope

Health & Safety concerns are one of the largest practical issues to overcome. It doesn't matter whether our involvement is restricted to a removal, or removal and storage, our considerations are significant. Clearly, a significant consideration is you as the customer. Your safety during the carrying out of the removal service whilst caring for your property and possessions is our serious concern. We aim to provide you with a stress, and worry-free, service as much as a professional one.

Our Commitment

We are committed to ensuring the safety of our employees, customers, members of the public and anyone else affected by our operations by:

- 1) Ensuring that adequate training has been provided to comply with the Health & Safety Act.
- 2) Ensuring that all risks are assessed and communicated to those affected.
- 3) Enabling suitable measures are undertaken to minimise the risks identified.
- 4) Providing appropriate PPE and tools so that operations can be undertaken appropriately and safely.
- 5) Ensuring all operatives have received training appropriate to any role they undertake.
- 6) Continually striving to improve the environmental impacts of our health and safety commitments.
- 7) Continually improving processes and training to reduce the risks faced through our operations.
- 8) Ensuring that specialist health and safety consultants are available to keep us appraised of H&S developments.
- 9) Ensuring that our underlying policies and procedures reflect, support and enhance current guidelines.

This statement is fully supported by senior management.
